

Job Opening: Seeking Veterinary Technician

Belle Plaine Animal Hospital

Partnering with Pets and their People

At the Belle Plaine Animal Hospital, we believe there is a divine spark in every living thing. We are deeply committed to fostering the human animal bond and serving our clients and patients with love and respect. We are looking for a people-oriented, animal-loving veterinary technician who shares this vision to join our clinic family.

Our practice draws a committed client base from both the cities and surrounding rural area because of our commitment to addressing the whole client/patient relationship, using both holistic practices and cutting-edge Western medicine. Our practice is equipped with all the latest technology. Most of our team has been working together for 10-15 years; we are a friendly, “no drama” crew that is passionate about what we do. We would be excited to welcome a self-motivated, hard-working, and trustworthy co-worker.
