

Help Your Pets Have a Happy Holiday, Too

Tip # 1: Keep the feast on the table

Fatty foods like turkey or even turkey skin can cause pancreatitis.

Tip # 2: Stash the trash

Ingesting turkey bones can be deadly for family pets. Keep the carcass (as well as strings and packaging for the meat) in a securely closed container.

Tip # 3: Keep an eye on the exit

With so many family members coming in and out of the house, pets can easily make a dash for the door.

Tip # 4: Ditch deadly decorations

Keep pets away from lit candles and things like pine cones or needles (if ingested, they could perforate an intestine or cause blockages). And remember: some plants like Baby's Breath, Sweet William, some ferns and hydrangeas can also be toxic.
